POD

Our Pod collection is versatile in design making it ideal for lounge areas and gathering spots. The Pod line is Rouillard's most modular system, which means the specification options are endless. The sturdy Pod collection can be used as freestanding sofas and chairs with arms in reception areas or private offices. In lounge spaces, create benches with various backs available in different heights, or simply go with backless benches to make for a more airy setting. For open floor plans, connect the units and add the highest back divider to create enclosed clusters. The Pod collection also offers connecting console tables for those essential meeting tools: laptops and coffee cups.
